

The Solar Eclipse Gathering - Critical Mass for the New Plasma Body Formation Blueprint

The White, Winged, Collective, Consciousness of Nine through Magenta Pixie

Is the coming together, in groups, important at this time of Ascension?

Indeed this is the case. Whilst there are those who 'walk the hermit path' if you will, the majority of starseeds will benefit greatly from the collective coming together of like minded souls. Known as the 'Great Gathering, 'Uniting the Tribes' or 'Taking your place within the family of Light'

Why are these gatherings so important?

For you, on a physical level, you gain confirmation of your own knowings, you are able to explore ideas and paradigms of others and you are able to teach others the paradigms you hold, the knowings you have and the messages you have received. You are able to receive and give healing.

From the higher perspective you are creating a network that acts like a circuit. Your energetics link together that creates an electrical or more appropriately an electro magnetic circuit. This circuit can be 'plugged into' if you will by many non-physical forces and can be utilised for the repairing of the crystalline grids upon your planet, at the galactic level, within your dimension and within the DNA strand formation within your bodies.

Are you saying that the coming together in groups between the like minded, repairs planetary grids and our DNA structure?

If the energetic created by the group is cohesive, yes.

What is a cohesive energetic?

A unified one.

So you are saying if the individuals within the group are at odds with one another and are arguing, this will not repair the grids and the DNA field?

It will not. In fact, it will do the opposite.

So coming together as a unified, cohesive group repairs the planetary and galactic grids and reconstructs the crystalline DNA template?

Exactly.

How big does this group have to be?

The bigger the better as this creates more mass within the circuit. However, a small cohesive group can 'move mountains' if you will.

How many are we talking?

A group gathering as few as three can create a circuit. A highly connected starseed can connect a circuit on their own if they utilise other conducting frequencies such as crystals and especially crystal skulls. A gathering of six, utilising high energetics can do much repair on the grids, give power to the planetary kundalini meridians that you know as 'leylines' and through this work can open stargates.

Do these groups have to convene in person?

No. This can be done telepathically, utilising medium such as radio or other internet or telephone based technology. Dreamtime gatherings are most powerful.

Does this grid repair work take place unconsciously? Are there individuals involved in repair work during dreamtime that are not aware of what they are doing?

This is absolutely the case yes. On some level there is always awareness and agreement. A contract will be in place prior to incarnation.

So if someone said to me, Pixie, you must unite the lightworkers across the world and tell them to come together would they be correct in wanting this?

They would.

Would this have to be done in person? Through telephone? Through email? Or through telepathy?

All of these methods. This is currently occurring upon your planet now and has been for sometime. This is a telepathic connection. A circuit. This began a long time ago upon your planet and has been added to exponentially especially since your year of 2011.

There is a 'huge jump' or 'quantum leap' if you will, in souls joining this telepathic network and adding much mass to this circuit. This takes place on the 21st August, the day of your Total Solar Eclipse.

This creates a specific critical mass juncture that will have a large ripple effect, snowball effect or domino effect upon your planet for many years to come.

A critical mass for what?

This is difficult to explain so you may understand in third dimensional terms.

The most correct terminology would be 'plasma formation.'

The 21st August 2017 day of the Total Solar Eclipse is a critical mass juncture for plasma formation.

You would know this as a 'new strand' or 'several new strands' reforming within the DNA. We could also say this is a blueprint for a 'Plasma Body' and this blueprint shall be fully formed by the 21st August 2017 when it reaches critical mass.

So will group gatherings, ceremonies and similar including on line gatherings be part of this critical mass for plasma formation?

Absolutely. It is the gatherings amongst you that create the circuit board needed for the plasma body blueprint.

So do you have any advice about what we should do? How should we behave on that day? On the 21st August at the time of the Eclipse?

We are most pleased you have asked us this question. It is most important for you to raise your vibration on this day and keep your vibration high regardless of what is occurring within your third dimensional reality and within the false matrix system that is set up on your planet. Today, is the day for the visualisation of the true reality. The unity, joy, transparency, honesty, integrity, sharing, healing and love. It matters not how you achieve this. A gathering or ceremony at the time of the eclipse, deep meditation, spending time in the company of loved ones, feeling peaceful, sleeping, doing Yoga, sitting in your garden, appreciating the beauty of your surroundings, taking part in a gathering online, listening to inspiring conversation, music or admiring artwork - it matters not. It is the feeling you have when your heart is open that shall create the circuit for the 'Plasma-Body-Blueprint, Critical-Mass-Moment' at the time of the Great Eclipse.

The feelings you are looking for are joy, gratitude, unity, peace, compassion, love, bliss and related emotion.

If you are going through a difficult time and you cannot raise to these emotions then holding the intention for a unified planet of sovereignty and liberty will add to the circuit even if you yourself cannot raise to a higher emotion.

There are group meditations planned for this day so we can suggest the joining in with this telepathic union.

The timelines are set for this critical mass moment. By the time these words are heard by others the circuit will have been formed and the critical mass moment will have been reached.

Remain open to incoming messages in the form of your guidance speaking, intuitions, knowings, dreams, visions, codes, clairvoyance. Much is being delivered to you as many stargates open allowing the positively polarised entities to move into your sphere in a much closer way than they have done so before.

There will be those that try to prevent this critical mass moment occurring but they shall not be able to do this. They believe their technologies will surpass the natural plasma fields that shall be created from this moment but this cannot possibly be, for the forces we speak of are beyond their comprehension.

Only those who hold the codes for compassion can understand that of which we speak. This is the time of the heart, the emerald ray, the mermaids of Mu, the fifth dimensional Mer-Ka-Bah, the fourth density merge point, the cosmic quantum overlap, the pole shift, the return of Ni-Bi-Ru, the dissolution of the process of the veils, the phoenix rising, the matter/antimatter merge and the unification of physicality and spirit.

The codes for compassion are held within the starseeds, wanderers and lightworkers. The codes for compassion are the key into bliss which creates the golden mean frequency and opens the golden stargate, the stargate that is your solar system sun and grand central sun.

Be open to the new galactic awareness and live within the code of honour that is given to he or she who wears the badge of sovereignty.

Open your hearts, love one another, accept one another's differences as the blessings that they are, for together, unified, you create the rainbow.

We realise you cannot see the bigger picture in it's fullest entirety whilst incarnated within the physical reality, within a physical body. Yet your knowing holds the all. We repeat, your knowing holds the all for it is the all that is.

Free will, upon your planet, has been a non-achievable ideological dream in the minds of many for so long, yet at your point of the Total Solar Eclipse, 21st August 2017 and the critical mass moment for the blueprints for the plasma formation, free will is no longer an ideological utopian impossibility.

Your open hearts, your unity, your high light quotient frequency and your knowings make free will a manifested actuality and the new status quo upon your planet.
